The Hagan Vineyard perches high above the edge of the continent fully facing the cold Pacific Ocean on the esteemed Taylor Lane west of Occidental. Dramatic, awe-inspiring and windswept, it produces wines of extraordinary complexity and perfume. This organically farmed vineyard includes a block planted to 4 ft x 4 ft, an incredibly rare spacing that requires our vineyard crew to work entirely by hand. No equipment will fit down the rows. This works to our favor as the extra attention to detail ensures the utmost quality, as evidenced by this remarkably concentrated and precise Pinot Noir. This is a sinuous wine, with fleshy dark fruit notes integrated with orange citrus, minerality and clove.
